DOING GOOD WORK.

Tomato Club Girls in Newberry County Doing Good Work With Miss Holloway as Organizer.

Miss Edith Parrott, State organizer of girls' clubs, Winthrop college, and Mr. C. F. Niven, assistant horticulturist, Clemson college, on a visit to Newberry county Friday, June 5, found the tomato club workers intelligent, enthusiastic and successful. Through the courtesy of Mr. E. H. Aull Miss Fannie Holloway and Miss Sadie Goggans, accompanied the guests in his automobile to Miss Marguerite Wise's patch, Prosperity club, where a demonstration in pruning was given by Mr. Niven, to Miss Susie Lester's patch, St. Luke's club, which is said to be one of the best in the State; and to Miss Alma Stillwell's patch, Silverstreet club, which was irregular but fortunate in that respect because the fruit will not ripen at one time. At each tomato patch a crowd of uniformed club girls, interested women and men watched Mr. Niven look for tomato diseases—blight, wilt, and worms—and describe the cure in simple, though scientific manner. Miss Parrott attracted the members in her talk of the 2,500 other girls in this State who were striving to make the quality of the 4H Brand Tomato famous. She spoke also of the short course in cooking, sewing and poultry raising at Winthrop college to be given the two girls in each county attaining best results by July first.

The two State representatives seemed very much pleased at the interest, willingness to work, and ability of the Newberry girls inspired to emulate Miss Fannie Holloway, organizer.

ANNUAL REPORT

Of Superintending Teacher of Newberry County—Sept. 1, 1913—June 1, 1914.

During the nine months I have been supervising teacher, I have paid 133 school visit, 272 home visits, been a guest in 89 different houses, written approximately 1,000 personal letters, transcribed 78 newspaper articles, travelled 2930 miles by rail, driven 1155 miles, organized 18 school improvement Associations, made 40 public talks, worked a part of 51 days in superintendent's office, helped teachers order 25 school libraries, at ended 25 committee meetings, taught 3,000 pupils, attended 7 Newberry county teacher's meetings, one Laurens county teachers institute, one Sumter county teachers meeting, one State Teachers meeting in Spartanburg, one Southern Educational Association in Louisville, Kentucky, and helped in gathering material for two Educational editions of the papers, and in promoting our Teachers Institute and Fair and Field day. There have been six special school taxes voted, sometimes without direct help on my part.

Please let me explain some of the foregoing facts. I visited every school in the county once and the great majority of schools many times according to the immediate need. On revisiting a school it is a great pleasure to be entertained in a different home as that gives such a real acquaintance with a people whose hospitality is justly famous. A few of the School Improvement Associations were not successful but the majority have done wonders for their schools. Our Newberry county teachers have shown ability, interest and loyalty in the attendance upon teachers' meetings and our institute which they say helped them greatly. Since I assisted in editing a newspaper, I have had the greatest sympathy for the editors who have so generously given us space for all educational undertakings.

The interest in the schools of the county is beautiful and we look to the citizens to raise Newberry county to the first place in the educational work of the State. For the multitude of kindness shown me and the magnitude of their cooperation I thank the men, women and children of the county.

Sadie Goggans,

Supervising teacher.

Newberry county.

STEALING HARNESS

Seemed to Be Business of Gang to Handle Harness Belonging to Others.

Some time ago a number of people missed portions of their harness, such as a horse collar or piece of a line. Then whole sets were taken. E. H. Aull had three mule collars and a portion of a leather line stolen.

The line was identified on a country wagon and the theft was traced to Archie Pettus and he was convicted by the recorder.

Recently several other persons lost harness. The police and the sheriff and his constables got busy. Archie Pettus was again arrested and some of the harness recovered. He was arrested Saturday night but made a break from the officer in charge in a crowded street and made his escape. Monday morning two other negroes were arrested and a lot of the harness recovered.

ENROLLMENT COMMITTEES.

The committees on enrollment will, as far as practicable, observe township lines as the limit of their club districts. Exceptions to this general rule were made by the County Committee in favor of Little Mountain and Pomaria. There may be other places where township lines are not well defined, or where a strict observance of township lines will place an unnecessary burden upon members. Enrollment in such cases is in the discretion of the enrolling committee. The committee will endeavor to enroll every person eligible under Sec. 6 of the rules within their districts.

The enrollment books will be opened on Tuesday, June 9th, and closed Tuesday, July 28th. The enrolling committee for each club is herewith published. The committee is in charge of the book and application for information can be made to either member.
